

In many respects I consider myself to be both a very fortunate and unique individual. I have acquired many skills through different experiences. I have found self expression through; acting, directing, presenting, teaching and writing. In addition to this my experiences of Poland and Polish language and culture bring in a different dimension. Not only does the command of another language open up contact with the country and its people but it also provides a privileged insider type view of the history of the particular country and its culture.

Therefore it was decided that it was surely time to put the diversity of possibilities of different activities on offer for the world to see!
